Will Assist Him.

The request of the President for further retaliatory powers against Canada is fair and just, and has so been treated by the Republicans of both Houses. They are ready to arm him with the thunderbolts of Jove if they are but convinced that he will make a wise use of them. It should not be forgotten, however, that the Senate did some eighteen or twenty months ago confer upon the Chief Executive what it considered ample powers for the purpose. There was no necessity for him to exercise them except in the case of fresh indignity or outrage to American vessels. If nothing of the kind had been subsequently perpetrated it is understandable why he allowed the Reprisals Act, with its defects, to sleep. But it now appears, from his own declaration, that he has not used his prerogatives by way of retaliation.
If he did not do so because of defects in the Reprisals Act, then was the time for him to call attention to them and to have solicited those fuller powers which would so willingly have been conferred, and which he now seeks with such dramatic braying of trumpets, asses and things.

Old Comfort.

The New York Evening Post, attacking Mr. Blaine's statement that the savings of the wage-workers of Massachusetts alone exceed those of all the laborers of Scotland, offers figures no less startling than those of Mr. Blaine himself. It places the savings bank deposits of Massachusetts at $291,197,000, and the total of England, Scotland and Ireland at $486,000,000.
In other words the two millions people of Massachusetts have in bank a sum of money equivalent to sixty per cent of the total savings of the thirty-nine millions of inhabitants of the British Isles; which is to say that in proportion to their numbers the people of Massachusetts are able to save ten times the amount that those in Great Britain can lay aside. In addition to this is the fact that here nearly every laboring man owns his home, while in England they are crowded into tenement houses and own no foot of the soil.
If there is any comfort which the Mug-wumps can derive from the figures they present, it is of the kind known as cold.

The election outrages of Louisiana which were so palpable and gross as to excite comment the nation over, have been called to the attention of the United States Senate and an investigation committee has been demanded to the exceeding wrath of the Southern members who still assert that it is "none of your business." In the matter of the negro vote the South has passed the point when it denies, apologizes or defends. It now asserts that it will not allow the negro the right of free ballot and extols itself for so doing.
Small wonder that the prospect of being put upon the rack by an investigating committee is cause for alarm to some of these Southern members who hold seats by frauds which they do not take the trouble even to apologize for.

It is but three years since Mr.
Cleveland expressed it as his opinion that Thurman was to old for office. Only three years have passed by and although Thurman has grown that much older, we hear no repetition of the former objection. Mr. Cleveland himself has grown older, even if not wiser, and that may have altered his opinion of old men, and further Mr. Thurman has in the interval become an old Roman which probably puts a different aspect upon the matter.

News has been received in London of the death of Sir John Rose, formerly Finance Minister for the Dominion of Canada. He was hunting in California. In the north of Scotland, and fell dead as he was about to fire at a stag.

Governor Downey's Reasons for Supporting Harrison.

A New Mexican Vendetta—A Brutal Murder in Arizona—Miscellaneous.

LEFT HIS PARTY.

Ex-Governor Downey Gives His Reasons for Supporting Harrison.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 26.—A correspondent of the Bulletin, writing from Mesa Grande, states that ex-Governor John G. Downey has abandoned the Democratic party and is supporting Harrison and protection. The correspondent says:

Ex-Governor Downey informs me that he has voted his last Democratic ticket, and gives a very logical reason for his decision. He says: "When the war was over and it was known what a tremendous debt we had to pay, and what crippled resources we had to accomplish it with I said, as did many of our wisest men that never during our lives would we see good times again, and I firmly believed it. We have had Republican rule ever since, except the last four years, and what is the result? The country has prospered beyond all precedent, and we have not only reduced our debt beyond our wildest expectations, but have accumulated such a surplus that it is the pressing question of the hour to know what to do with it, and all this without distressing our people in the least. Yes," he continued, "I have had enough of Cleveland. Four years of his tinkering have nearly ruined four of the principal industries on this coast—wool, wine, lumber and silver—and we want no more of it."

A New Mexican Vendetta

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Aug. 25.—A vendetta has been declared between the Lea and John Good factions in the eastern portion of Dona Ana county. A short time since one McDonald was assassinated, and in retaliation Walter Good, a son of John Good, was waylaid and killed on August 3.
This section of country is eighty miles to the nearest railroad station, and a reign of terror exists there. Sheriff Cascardate and posse left here to-day with warrants for the arrest of a large number of these men. It is not unlikely that an appeal will be made to Governor Ross to call out the militia.

Mormon Pardons.

WASHINGTON, August 26.—A resolution introduced by Delegate Dubois of Idaho, requesting the Attorney-General to furnish the House a list of pardons granted since 1885 to persons convicted in Utah and Idaho of the offense of unlawful cohabitation, was rejected, and a substitute adopted calling for the number of pardons granted to persons convicted of the offense of adultery, polygamy and unlawful cohabitation under the acts of 1862, and as amendments thereto; also the number of pardons granted since 1862 and the reasons therefor.

Death of a Miser.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 27.—The recent death of Mrs. H. C. Culter at the City and County Hospital has revealed some curious facts.
The deceased was supposed to have been a destitute woman, as she had made public appeals for help, and had received many charitable attentions. Upon searching her clothes, there were found $15.25 in cash, two gold rings, two gold bracelets, two gold chains, two gold pencils, one gold pen, and a blank book of the Hibernia Bank showing a credit of $1,000.

A Brutal Murder.

NOGALES, August 26.—A horrible murder was perpetrated in this place early yesterday morning. The victim was Louis Cohen, a prominent dry goods merchant and one of the oldest merchants in the southern part of the Territory.
The murderers assaulted him while asleep in a room in the rear of the store where he slept, beating him to death with a coupling pin. The murderer secured a watch and $200 in money and escaped.

Sheridan's Memory.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A meeting was held this evening at the residence of Colonel Gouraud in Norwood in memory of General Sheridan.
Many distinguished soldiers and civilians were present. General Wolesey sent a letter eulogizing Sheridan, ending by saying, "He was a good fellow all around, and I feel as proud of him as if he had served the Queen."

A Shooter Arrested.

SAN JOSE, August 26.—Atto Curtiz, the young man who shot Geo.
T. Dibble in a street car at Santa Clara, on Sunday night, was captured by Sheriff Sweigert and Constable Haley last night at the ranch of Dr. Kehrman, in Suencanyon, 21 miles from here, and brought to the county jail at one o'clock this morning.

GROVER'S MESSAGE.

Action likely to be taken by Congress—Democratic Programme—WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—In regard to the message of President Cleveland, Senator Hoar says he is willing to give the President such power as he deems essential in the premises. In their speeches Saturday the Republican Senators did not declare for any specific line of policy, though Senator Sherman was very emphatic in favor of bringing the Canadians to terms in regard to the canals.

The message will be referred to the Foreign Relations Committee on the termination of the debate, which will probably continue for several days. It is understood that the committee will be called together promptly to consider the subject, and the prevailing opinion is that a measure will be reported confering upon the President the power he asks.
In the House the Democrats will give the President all the power he asks. They are so pleased with him that they will not hesitate to vote for any measure he may recommend. In order that the Democrats may be in a position to carry out their policy promptly all absentees have been summoned to Washington. Notices to the Republican absentees are also being sent out, but the Democrats are urged to return to this city without delay. In case there should arise any partisan division upon the legislation proposed the Democrats would not be able to do anything at present, for nearly half their members are absent.

SAWYER AND SABIN.

The House Committee Wants More Information About Them.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The Judiciary Committee has invited the California members to appear before it to-morrow to express their views upon the memorial now before the committee from a citizens' mass meeting at San Francisco requesting the impeachment of Judges Sawyer and Sabin for admitting Chinese under writs of habeas corpus. This hearing will be held, as there is nothing before the committee upon which to base action.

A Disgrace to Journalism.

PRESCOTT, August 27.—The criminal libel case of General Churchill against John H. Marion, publisher of the Prescott Courier, took a new turn to-day. Marion was discharged from custody on divulging the name of the author of the libelous article, and the Sheriff arrested R. M. Slater, Special Agent of the General Land Office at Maricopa Station. Slater, who bears an unenviable reputation here, admitted the authorship, and was held in $3,000 bond to answer before the next Grand Jury.

Cleveland's Check.

NEW YORK, August 27.—The Sun will say to-morrow: "President Cleveland has enhanced the ardor of the Democrats in charge of the national campaign by sending them his check for $10,000. A very cordial letter accompanied the President's contribution. The members of the Cabinet have also sent very liberal contributions. Altogether from the personal friends of the President in Washington $150,- 000 has thus far been handed in."

A Profile Poet.

DULUTH, Minn., August 25.—The wife of Anto Caislaka, a polish laborer, gave birth to four children Wednesday morning—two boys and two girls—all healthy and well. Their combined weight was twenty-one and a half pounds. The woman has had seven children in three confinements.

All's Well That Ends Well.

Saturday evening a well-known young man of Reno, took two young ladies out for a moonlight drive to Laughlin's Spring. Everything went well until the Chalk bluff was reached, when a train passed. This frightened the horse, which became unmanageable, and finally overturned the car, throwing the young ladies into a convenient sand pile and precipitating a severe rain upon the river. Beyond a severe fright and the wetting of the young man no damage was done.

Fire in the Showsheds.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a fire was discovered in the showsheds at Yuba Pass, between Cisco and Emigrant Gap, and before the flames were subdued about 600 feet of sheds were destroyed. A number of trunks had been put off a freight train shortly before the fire was discovered, and it is surmised that they started the outbreak. All trains were delayed twelve hours or more by the disaster.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Five hundred Democrats in Quek-da county, N. Y., will vote for Harrison.
The Greenback party will hold its national convention at Cincinnati September 12th.

Five hundred workmen for Wickie-Brook, wire-cloth manufacturers of Ithaca, N. Y., have signed a petition against Free Trade.

James Wilson, one of the largest coal dealers in Patterson, N. J., leaves Cleveland and the Democracy to vote for Harrison and Protection.

The largest marble quarry in the world is that of the Georgia Marble Company in Pickens county. The Mills bill is considered of it, of course.

At Hudson, N. H., in as many days, a dozen old Democrats have come out for Harrison and Protection. Among them are Mayor Peabodys and Hon.
Benjamin Ray.

A rumor prevails in New York that ex-Sheriff O'Brien intends to revive the Irving Hall Democracy, to advance the political fortunes of ex-Mayor Grace and to oppose the election of President Cleveland.

If Chairman Price can't get his campaign opened any other way, let us suggest a corkcrew. The timely use of a corkcrew has been known to arouse a great deal of Democratic enthusiasm.

Brutus, N. Y., a town of 4,000 inhabitants, has five citizens who cast their ballots in 1880 for Harrison and Tyler and will vote next November for Harrison and Morton. Many of them voted for Cleveland in 1884.

The First Congressional district of Texas, in 1886, polled 16,844 Democratic votes and 10,344 Republican.
The Democrats have had a row, and have two candidates in the field, and there is a prospect of Republican success.

Ex-Senator Mahone claims that Virginia will give 20,000 Republican majority this fall. The enthusiastic Virginia Republican is probably too sanguine. Sagacious leaders of the party expect no help from the Solid South.

Suicide in Carson.

On Saturday evening Miss Florence Lapham, a granddaughter of the late Hank Phillips and a handsome and popular young lady of Carson, suicided by means of laudanum. The young lady's depressive act was caused by her mother, Mrs. A. J. Collins, reproving her in the presence of a young man with whom she had been walking, staying longer than the mother thought she should. Finally her mother slapped her face. This so humiliated the young lady that she proceeded to her room and took a large dose of laudanum, which resulted in her death within a few hours. The young lady was very popular, and her sad and tragic death is deplored by all.

The Warring Carpenters in Court.

The preliminary examination of J.
E. Gallagher charged with an assault with intent to kill George Travers, is being held in Justice Young's court today. It will be remembered that in a dispute on the 15th inst. at the State fair grounds between the parties named the former cut the latter in the groin with a chisel. The cut was considered serious, but the wounded man appeared in court to-day looking the very picture of health. District Attorney Evans is conducting the prosecution and Judge Boardman represents the defendant.

"A Soap Bubble."

Sunday's Enterprise says: There is no particular plot to "A Soap Bubble" unless it is hidden in a cryptogram. During the progress of the piece everybody seems to be happy and well acquainted with each other. This speaking acquaintance forms a line on which they hang a variety of good songs, dances and some very laughable situations. The general absurdity and oddity of their manner of bringing on their specialties makes the piece funny from beginning to end. The barber shop scene, although no particular talent is displayed, is nonsensically funny, and the sharpest critic could not avoid a hearty laugh. The company is fairly good, none of them being unequal to their parts, and the performance is deserving of a liberal patronage anywhere.

Reserved seats at Naby's Bazaar.

He Deserves a Chorus.

In March, 1887, a domestic in the employ of C. Novacovich, became insane and was admitted into the State Asylum for the Insane. At the time of her commitment, her employer paid into the County Clerk's office the sum of $47.25, which he had in his possession belonging to the unfortunate woman. Her brother, a well-to-do citizen of Butte county, Cal., learning of the money, came to Reno and made a request of the County Clerk for the same. The request was denied by the Clerk, who gave him several excellent reasons for his action. Now comes a letter in which the writer again demands the money, and requests the Clerk to inform him what steps to take in order to secure it. County Clerk Julien will answer the letter, and will advise him to let the matter alone, as the money belongs to the woman, and either she or the State is entitled to it.

J. H. Prince, for many years a resident of Hawthorne, but now a prosperous business man of Shoshone county, Cal., is in town shaking hands with his many friends here. A Fast Young Man.

Charles W. Ladd, head cupman of the Eureka Con. Mining Company of Eureka was arrested last Wednesday evening for having systematically robbed the company of bullion which he disposed of to a firm of Chicago jewelers. His peculations will aggregate a large amount, as he has been living very extravagantly and spending money like a Cossack for months past. He confesses his guilt.

A Woman's Despair.

"Death would be preferable to this world," dragging-down sensation and aching back," despairingly complained a suffering mother. "And the worst of it is," she added, "there seems no cure for it." "You are mistaken," replied the sympathizing neighbor to whom the sufferer complained. "I suffered for years just as you do, and found no relief till my physician finally prescribed Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which cured me, and I have ever since been well, and the wealth of India would not induce me to be without the remedy, if a like affliction should return." "Favorite Prescription" is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE.

The terrible season of drouth which now effects this State is the severest that has ever visited Nevada since its first settlement by the whites. From all points of the State come the same reports. The valley streams have been sucked up by the heat of the sun, which now, instead of gleaming on cool pools and dancing cascades, beats down on the dry, brown rocks of the river bed. The rills which babbled down the sides of the mountains are silent, the green meadows have turned into an expanse of shriveled yellow and the cattle drag their gaunt bodies from place to place in search of food and drink, and when they find mud holes here and there, spend their last strength fighting for a chance to lap the stagnant alkali water.

The Carson Appeal hopes that the howlings of these poor beasts will reach the ears of the short-sighted members of the last Legislature, who fought the irrigation, artesian well and water appropriation bills at the last session, and in one sense is glad that this is a particularly dry season; that cattle are perishing from hunger and thirst, and that farmers are seeing the terrible effects of a summer drouth on their crops. It will bring the folly of the past home to them in a practical way, and they will insist this year that men be sent to the Legislature who will be pledged on these questions before they are placed on the ticket.

The State should see that the water laws are so revised that there will be an inducement to men of enterprise and capital to invest in water storage schemes. Under the existing laws of this State there is no protection to a man who spends money in water storage, provided he wants to utilize a natural channel or ravine that some hog has taken up to the exclusion of all his neighbors.

The Appeal would like to see an experimental artesian well at least 1,000 feet deep, and 2,000 if necessary, sunk in every county in this State at the State's expense.

The Appeal would like to see dams constructed in this State for the storage of water, that the wealth which is wantonly allowed to run to waste every winter may benefit our agriculture in seasons like the present.

But we are convinced that nothing but extraordinary emergency will ever wake the people from their slumber, and we hope that the drouth will continue far into the fall and that everybody in the State will get a good dose of it, and that when the Legislature meets next winter the loss will be fresh in their minds.

Let Storey county take the lesson to itself. The people there are doing nothing for the water question seem never to have had enough sense to know that it is the lack of storage reservoirs in the Carson river that has stopped the mills running and thrown 800 Comstock miners out of employment. We hope the Comstock miners this year will ascertain if their legislative nominees propose to do anything in this matter this winter before they cast a vote for them.

Stages for State Fair Exhibitors.

The Southern Pacific railroad officials have issued the following instructions to agents relative to articles and live stock to be exhibited at the State Fair: Articles for exhibition at the State Fair at Reno, when from points within the State of Nevada, will be charged regular rates going, and the same collected on delivery at Reno. On the return of articles to the original shipping point, shippers will have the amount of freight paid at Reno refunded on presentation of a certificate from the Secretary of the Agricultural Association that the property was exhibited at the Fair, and has not changed hands.

Burglars at Work.

Last night burglars effected an entrance into John Sunderland's store on Virginia street, and appropriated two boxes of silk underwear, one box of socks and one box of neckties. The burglars forced the glass door in the rear of the establishment, and judging from the kind of goods they appropriated, were well-acquainted with the interior of the store. There is no clue to the bold marauders.

NO VACANT HOUSES.

Capitalists never had a better opportunity for the investment of money than is presented to-day in Reno. Careful inquiry develops the fact that it is almost impossible to find a vacant house in town that is fit to live in. The GAZETTE knows of one family who were compelled to leave on account of their being unable to purchase a home or to rent a house, and knows of several more who are also searching the town for suitable accommodations.

The man who will build houses here for rent can get a return of at least fifteen per cent. a year for his money, and have tenants in every house before the paint is dry. The population of the town has increased so rapidly that building has not kept pace with it. A careful canvass of the present population of Reno by the Census Marshal placed it at 4,640, and it will be over 5,000 before another year passes. In view of this fact, the GAZETTE repeats that capitalists never had a better opportunity for the investment of money than is presented to-day in Reno.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

The Model School Sealed With Applicants.

At 9 o'clock this morning there was a large gathering of applicants for admission to the Model School connected with the Normal Department. President Brown was conducting the examination when our reporter was present and the indications were that a full class would be secured. The other departments will open on Wednesday, September 5th, and the prospects are good for a large attendance. The class rooms are all in order and amply provided with school apparatus; and the grounds and walks are being put in excellent condition. The walks are all macadamized with stone and will be covered with gravel and sand, so that students can go and come dry shod. The Commissioners should consider the sidewalks on Center street and thus insure a complete walk to and from Commercial Row.

CLEVELAND'S LETTER.

It Reaches the National Democratic Committee and is Sent Back for Revision.

The Carson Appeal has information from a source that it cannot question, that Grover Cleveland sent his letter of acceptance to the National Democratic Central Committee, and that the letter was so strongly in favor of free trade, that by a unanimous vote it was sent back to Cleveland with the statement that it would defeat the party, and he was requested to revise it. A member of the Democratic Committee is authority for this extraordinary statement, and the Appeal's informant got it directly from him.

This fact has not yet reached the public, and will no doubt be disbelieved by many, but it is nevertheless true, and a few days more will bring the facts to light.

A Campaign Song Book.

The Acme Songs Illustrated Republican Glee and Hand Book contains 20 illustrations by Nast and others; 106 songs, with music printed for tunes not familiar, and 50 facts and condensed statements of loyal truth. It is a splendid hand book of fun, fact and song for everybody. For ten cents it will be mailed to any address by J. C. O. Redington, Syracuse, N. Y.

WURRA, WURRA!

The Democratic Chivalry Vanquish the Opposition in a Battle of Politics.

There is rejoicing in the camp of the Democratic regulars, and lamentations of woe in the wigwag of the opposition. Smiles of contentment are visible on the countenances of the chivalry, and red-eyed regret is discernible on the frontal plates of the cabanas of their opponents. The regulars look with pride upon their well-earned victory, and the opposition are murmuring dire threats of vengeance when the Convention meets. The tomahawk and scalping knife are now being whetted for the fray, and the great disappointment of the opposition is mitigated in a measure by the thought that ere another moon has waned the scalps of several of the regular chieftains will dangle at their belts.

The cause of this rejoicing and lamentation was the battle of ballots at the Democratic primary election held here on Saturday last. A regular ticket had been prepared by the Democratic leaders, and for some unaccountable reason they had not consulted several would-be-leaders in regard to its make-up. War was then declared, and when the polls were opened Saturday afternoon, the opposition proceeded to make, as they thought, a winning fight. The regulars, although alive to the situation, looked complacently on until the full strength of their opponents had been shown, when they quietly walked up to the ballot-box and deposited their tickets. The result showed that they had not much to fear from the opposition, for when the count was finished the vote stood: Regular, 137; opposition, 80.

The latter did not take their defeat quietly, and several workers in the reform (?) movement unhesitatingly stated that the ballot-box had been worked in the interest of the victors.

In the language of a well-known Democrat, "H—! will soon pop in the councils of the local Democracy."

JIM BRAZELL'S SCHEME.

A Well-Known Mining Expert to Become an Artesian Well-Borer.

James Brazell, the well-known mining expert and prospector, returned from a trip into the wilds of Western Nevada and Inyo county, Cal., this morning. Mr. Brazell is an ardent advocate of artesian wells, and grows enthusiastic when talking about his favorite subject. He contends that artesian wells can be bored successfully in any of the valleys of Western Nevada lying contiguous to the Sierra Nevada mountains. He says that he has thoroughly studied the subject, closely observed the topography of the country which he has been over, compared it with regions where the artesian well problem has been successfully solved, and is confident that his assertions can and will be proved in time.

Mr. Brazell is not only a good mining man, but he is a born speculator as well, and will shortly proceed to San Francisco, where he expects to enlist a number of capitalists in a scheme he has of reclaiming 5,000 acres of land near Washoe lake, which he says needs only water to render it equal to the most productive land on the Pacific Coast. This he intends to do by means of artesian wells, and is confident that in the locality named he can strike water at a depth of thirty feet. He means business, and will shortly organize a company when work will be prosecuted vigorously.

Funeral of Mrs. J. C. Hampton.

The funeral of Mrs. J. C. Hampton, who was a victim of the Oceanic-Chester disaster in the bay of San Francisco on Wednesday last, took place yesterday from St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Virginia City. The services were beautiful and impressive and were witnessed by a large number of friends and acquaintances of the deceased lady. Over sixty carriages were in line in the funeral, and during its progress the whole community mourned. Forty-five members of the De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, dressed in citizen's clothes, but wearing the mourning badge of the order, escorted the remains to the vault, where they will remain until the body of the deceased's husband is recovered, when both will be laid away to await the day of resurrection.

A Lansen Development Company.

The Northern California Development Company has been incorporated to acquire water rights in all legal and practical ways, to construct ditches and dams, buy and sell real estate, cultivate the same and raise and deal in all kinds of live stock in Lassen county, Cal. The capital stock is $750,000, and the amount subscribed is $1,250, with Ernest F. Staples of Brooklyn, Peter A. Wagner and Frank Walker of San Francisco, William F. Perry and Vernal S. Northey of Oakland, as the Directors.

The Public Schools.

The public schools opened for the fall term to-day with a large attendance. It seems that it would have been better to have delayed a week longer, or until the extreme hot weather had passed, as the closing days of August are, like the dog days elsewhere, always the most oppressive.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely from their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist.

John McCarthy, an old-time stage driver well known in Reno, is reported to have died recently in Oroville, Cal.

By means of SAMPLES and ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUES and by aid of long experience and skill in filling orders, we are able to place the advantages offered our city trade equally within reach of out of town customers.

As to cost of sending goods to and fro, we might add that transportation charges have been so reduced that they hardly figure in the handsome saving usually gained.

THE SUNFLOWER.

One Important Speech That Proved To Be Fortunate.

"What a queer looking yellow house that is," said Dell Dezel, pointing to the direction of a sunny colored cottage.
"And the owner is queer, too," said Minnie Hammond. "His name is Isaac Golden and he was crossed in love, and since then has lived all alone in that yellow house, which he calls the 'Sunflower.'" "There he is now," as a man about thirty came out of the cottage and disappeared among the trees.

"I should like to meet him very much," said Dell. "I am always interested in a romantic life."

She continued roughly:
"Minnie, I will make you a wagon of my opal ring against your volume of Mrs. Browning's poems that I will get Mr. Golden to propose to me before the summer is over."

The other readily agreed to the wagon.
Opportunities were not wanting for Dell to meet Mr. Golden, and they were soon on friendly terms with each other.
One day, when she was out boating, in trying to reach for some water lilies she fell in the lake, and would undoubtedly have perished if he had not appeared opportunely and saved her life.

Another time, as she was driving by the cottage, he came out and asked her if she would not like to look at his flower-garden. So she hitched up the horse in the shade and went in the gate among the sunflowers and blooming plants.

Dell laughed when she saw them, but the view of the surrounding country was very fine and she pressed to Mr. Golden the content. Then she said she must go at once, for the girls would be uneasy about her.

"I must bid you good-bye," she said, as her host placed her upon her horse, "for I am to go to-morrow."

"So soon?" he exclaimed quickly.

"Yes, and I may not see you again."

Good-bye.

"Good-bye," he returned, taking her by the hand. "Always wear blue riding habits and smoking caps with feathers on them, for they are very becoming."

Blushing rosy, she rode away. "Smoking caps, indeed!" she exclaimed. "Well, I have lost my wagger, and more, too," she added with a sigh, "but no one shall know of it."

Towards evening she sat under an apple tree in the corner of the garden, thinking of her folly, and the tears rose to her eyes. Suddenly she heard footsteps approaching, and in a moment Mr. Golden stood beside her.

She rose in embarrassment, the result of her recent mood, and, to cover her confusion, invited him into the house.

"Stay, please," he said, gently detaining her. "I've something I wish to tell you." And he went on rapidly. "I love you, Dell, earnestly and sincerely. Won't you take pity on me and accept me for your husband?"

Startled by this abrupt declaration, Dell's face grew red and then white, and finally she burst into tears.

"You wouldn't care for me if you knew how I had talked about you," she said at last.

"I don't believe you said anything very dreadful," he replied with a smile, as he drew her to him. "Tell me about it."

After much persuasion she told him of the wager she had made with Minnie.

"Is that all? I know it already, for I heard you."

At this she dried her eyes, and true to her character, burst into tears.

"I think I am entitled to the ring," he said. "Won't you give it to me, please?"

"Yes," she replied, "though I don't like to see gentlemen wear rings."

"Nor I," and he slipped it on his watch chain.

Minnie spied the ring at once, when they entered the house a few moments later.

"You don't say?" she began, laughing.

Della blushed.

"We do, indeed," said Mr. Golden, smiling, as he took Dell's hand in his own. "Allow me, Miss Minnie, to present you to the future mistress of the 'Sunflower.'"

During the latter part of the last century an awkward mistake occurred in this country in printing the Bible. In this edition the word "not" was omitted in the seventh commandment. For this piece of carelessness the then Archbishop of Canterbury imposed a heavy penalty.

The edition, so far as practicable, was called in and destroyed, and a fine of £20,000 was inflicted upon the printers.

The Roman Catholic Missal issued in France was once the subject of a judicial blunder. By the accidental substitution of a "in" for an "a" the word "celote" (an ecclesiastical cap or mitre) was printed "celotte" (breaches). The error occurred in the directions for conducting the service, and the sentence as altered read:

"Here the priest will take off his celotte!"—Cornhill Magazine.

He Could Perse
"Say, mister," inquired a countryman of the station house keeper, "do you want any more hands down here?"

He was a big, six-foot fellow in his shirt-sleeves, slouched hat and pants in his boots, with his whip tucked under his arm.

"I don't know," said the station house keeper. "What can you do?"

"Oh, I guess I can perlice a little."
"No," laughed the policeman. "we don't want any more hands."—Atlanta Constitution.

The "Hustling" New Girl.
"How does the new girl strike you?" asked a citizen at dinner lately.

"She hasn't struck me yet," answered his wife, meekly. "But she has done almost everything else."—Westfield (Mass.)
